BAREFOOT LUXURY ON ITALY'S AMALFI COAST

Casa Angelina differentiates from the many worldwide famous five star properties on the Amalfi Coast not only for its contemporary and understated chic design but also for its 'barefoot luxury' hospitality concept. Spectacularly set along the sheer-sided Amalfi Coast, Casa Angelina overlooks miles of blue Mediterranean sea from its cliff-edge perch in Praiano. Knockout views are matched by cool interiors at this hip little hideaway.

Whiter-than-white chic sums up Casa Angelina's sleek and clean-lined design aesthetic. Be ready for natural wood parquet floors, white-panelled baths, white desks, bedding and walls. This paean to minimalism is set off by flashes of brilliant colour from bold modern art and playful Murano glass sculptures. 43 Light-filled bedrooms and suites are spacious, pared-down spaces where gleaming white creates a cool and calming vibe. Cossetting and stylish, most have a sea-facing terrace replete with loungers, table and chairs – perfect for cocktails and intimate dining under the Mediterranean sun.

Floor to ceiling glass windows throughout frame mesmerizing sea-and-sky views – even in the super-cool glass elevator that glides down to the jetty-style beach, where the hotel has its four special 'Eaudesea' Rooms, formerly fishermen's homes. You will also find an outdoor pool fringed with loungers, an indoor pool glinting beneath a canopy of fibre optic lights and a state-of-the-art gym. Dining in this dream location is undeniably a treat, and Casa Angelina's restaurant 'Un Piano nel Cielo' offers territorial gastronomy with a gourmet makeover in a dramatic rooftop setting. Superlative service from youthful staff adds a cool and relaxing vibe in this oasis of stylish seclusion.
